

Sunshine and showers on Winchester Day 2007

Visitors to the College on Saturday 16 June for Winchester Day were not deterred by the heavy showers.

The Headmaster, Dr Ralph Townsend, preached at the morning service of Thanksgiving and Dedication in Chapel, attended by the Warden, Sir Andrew Large, members of the Governing Body, parents and their families.

Despite the early showers, Cricket versus Old Wykehamists was played on New Field (Lords) and Meads (2nd XI). Tennis matches versus Old Wykehamists were played on the grass courts outside the PE Centre.

Amongst the highlights of the day were the Summer Exhibition in Art School and the Junior Drama festival in QE II Theatre.

Science School opened in the afternoon and an exhibition entitled 'Winchester College and the Civil War' was displayed in the Eccles Room. Organ recitals in Chapel, performances by St Michael's Choir and Cantores Episcopi in Cloister continued throughout the afternoon.

College Gardens were open all day and attracted many visitors.
